representatives and leaders of the community who voluntarily support the institution, raise funds and other gifts that will benefit the College, according to Janene Breneman, Executive Director.

Cotton was born and raised in Three Rivers. She has worked in the banking industry for 13 years and held several positions within the organization. A 1981 graduate of Three Rivers High School, Cotton earned an associate degree from Davenport College in 1983, the Perry School of Lending at Central Michigan University in 2005, and the Perry School of Banking at CMU in 2007. She is a member of Three Rivers Rotary Club, Three Rivers Area Chamber of Commerce Board, Treasurer of Three Rivers Lions Club, Chairman of the Three Rivers Relay for Life and a former Board Member at the Domestic Assault Shelter.

When not working or volunteering her time, Cotton enjoys spending time with husband, Jim, and pet dog Sammy. They attend sporting events, participate in golf and camping, and like reading.

David Casterline has served 17 years with Armstrong International in Three Rivers where he directs the company's global communications, including mass communications, publications, film production and corporate communications. Prior to joining Armstrong, Casterline served eight years as Director of Data Marketing Services for Attorneys' Title Insurance Fund based in Orlando, Florida. He also was one of the youngest newspaper editors in Michigan, earning several Michigan Press Association awards for investigative reporting.

Casterline is a graduate of Ferris State University where he earned degrees in Technical Communications, Journalism, and English. He serves on the Michigan Colleges Foundation (MCF) Executive Board, Three Rivers Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, Three Rivers Rotary Club, and has volunteered as an AAU boys' head basketball coach and boys' varsity basketball coach at Centreville High School.

The Centreville resident and his wife, Valerie, have two sons: Matthew and Christopher, and both are in college. Casterline said he is very excited to be part of such a great organization as the Glen Oaks Foundation Board: "I feel like the organization is helping to mold the future of tomorrow's leaders with all the vital collective efforts of many outstanding business leaders and key educators."
